Cracking the recruiting code.

You are the HR Director or Head of Talent Acquisition; you may also be the president of a company entering into the Japanese market.

Now, here is one thing all executives have in common: over 65% of executives say the biggest headache that keeps them up at night is people. Not having the right people in the right positions, lack of leadership, and having a hell of a time hiring the right talent.

Morunda can help.

For over 20 years, we have been making those headaches around hiring go away. We understand the challenges, the pitfalls, and the limited supply of bilingual and bicultural talent. Partner with us, and you will soon be saying that it was the best decision we have ever made around hiring for a long time.

We want to hear what your recruitment strategy has been up to now. What is your employee brand? Are you an attractive potential employer? We will put together a plan and a strategy to have even your hardest position filled within 7 weeks.

Sit down with us today, and we can discuss a recruitment strategy for the next 6-12 months.

A bad hire costs money, time and talented employees may head for the door.

Do you have a plan if you get a resignation from one of your key executives? Who will you call? What is your plan? No one plans to fail but plenty fail to plan.

Imagine having all your manager and executive recruiting taken care of in one place. A firm that can recruit and present your company in a way that the best and brightest will be lining up to interview.
